Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 16 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mild, with outbreaks of heavy rain and strong winds.

This Evening and Tonight:
For most, a dry evening with clear spells as any showers clear away to the east. Moderate winds possibly strengthening to coastal gales as a band of occasionally heavy rain spreads across the region after midnight. Mild. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
A cloudy day with outbreaks of rain, heaviest near coasts and over hills during the afternoon. Strengthening winds with risk of coastal gales by the evening. Mild. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Heavy rain early on Thursday clears by midday, leaving sunshine and showers. Coastal gales developing on Friday, with further rain. Heavy outbreaks of rain continuing into Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.